DIOCESAN PRAYER

On this World Mission Sunday, we unite with the whole Church in praying for the joyful proclamation of the Gospel in our world. We pray for Pope Leo, for missionaries, Church leaders, and all the baptized, asking God to give all the strength and the courage to follow the example of Christ who came not to be served, but to serve. We pray for missionaries around the world, especially those working in places of danger and persecution, and we pray for all those who suffer through poverty, violence and oppression. May the power of the Gospel heal division, dispel darkness, and bring hope to those who despair.

Please maintain any flowers, solar lights, and anything else placed in the cemetery at a grave site. Please try to place objects in a way as not to impede the cemetery grass mowing and maintenance for the volunteers looking after the cemetery. It can add a lot of time and effort on the volunteer's part if items left at grave sites are left to deteriorate. Thank you, God Bless!

29th Sunday: Twofold life

“Teacher, we know that you are a truthful man and that you teach the way of God in accordance with the truth. Tell us, then, what is your opinion: Is it lawful to pay the census tax to Caesar or not?” Matthew 22:16-17

In the gospel today (Matthew 22:15-21), we see an unusual coalition between the Herodians (supporters of Roman Empire) and the National Party (Pharisees). The two parties came together to trap Jesus and put him in trouble. These two groups were never friends since they disagreed on certain religious and national issues.

At the time, Roman Empire had Israel as one of the countries under its rule. So, Jewish provinces had to pay taxes to Roman Empire, often scandalously expensive. There were three regular taxes then:

- The ground tax ($\frac{1}{10}$ of grain and $\frac{1}{5}$ of oil and wine)
- The income tax (1% of a man's income)
- The poll tax

To a Pharisaic-Jew God is the supreme and only King, therefore, to pay tax to an earthly king was an insult to God. However, the Herodians insisted that taxes must be paid to Rome. So, any stand against this was seen as disobedience to Rome. Since taxes were paid in Roman coins, which actually carried the head of the emperor. What this means is that paying tax is interpreted as returning to the emperor his property. Jesus also used the medium to call attention to our relationship with God. He encouraged us to be as conscious and dedicated in serving God as we are to the civil authorities. We should be committed to God as we are committed to your jobs. Surely, Jesus on one hand he agreed to the idea of human, civic and moral duty to pay taxes, that is, to collaborate in political life and the common good of the society. On the other, he reminded us of whose image we are created and so should model our life in accordance to his ordinances.

Jesus' answer shows that there is no bifurcation or duality in our loyalty. The church and state, religion and politics, sacred and secular, tithe and taxes, spirit and matter, heaven and earth, human and divine are not in opposition. Rather, it revealed more the reality of God (spiritual) and the reality of Caesar (physical). Both are real, part of our lives and our world.

We are must be obedience to the Caesars of the world because they represent God who is the sovereign controller of every human affair. Also, our obedience should not negate God's decrees. Every demand from us must be responded with full acknowledgement of God's image in us.

A good Christian lives a twofold life – rendering to God what is God's in the temple of the liturgy, in our homes and personal conscience; and as well rendering to Caesar what is Caesar's in the society, in the place of work, may be in the political space for the common good of humanity.

Prayer:

Thank you, Jesus

Thank you, Lord

Fr. Benjamin Ezekwudo
